Helen Pankhurst is the great-granddaughter of Emmeline Pankhurst and granddaughter of Sylvia Pankhurst, leaders of the British suffragette movement. In the 100th anniversary year of women getting the vote, we are delighted to welcome her to Church Stretton to talk about her book, 'Deeds Not Words'. The book charts how women's lives have changed over the last century, and offers a powerful and positive argument for a new way forward.

Dr Helen Pankhurst is a women's rights activist and senior advisor to CARE International, based in the UK and in Ethiopia. Her work in Ethiopia includes support to program development across different sectors, focused on the interests and needs of women and girls.

In the UK she is a public speaker and writer on feminist issues. She was involved in the 2015 film, 'Suffragette'.

'An incredible book... Informative, enlightening, and with the potential to change women's lives.' Sandi Toksvig

'A valuable guide and reference to anyone who wants to understand the Women's Movement in more depth. I am deeply grateful to Helen for writing it!' Annie Lennox OBE

"My great-grandmother fought for the vote—don't let her down"

Michael Brooks: 'The Quantum Astrologer's Handbook'

Wednesday 14th March, 2.30pm

Venue: Church Stretton Library

Tickets £5 to include light refreshments from Burway Books and Church Stretton Library.

The Quantum Astrologer's Handbook, is a biography, a history of science, an accessible explanation of quantum theory, and an engrossing story which reads like the best kind of novel. It is a science book like no other about a scientist like no other.

Acclaimed author, Michael Brooks, will visit Church Stretton to talk on 'quantum astrology for beginners'. Humans have been trying to make sense of the universe since they first looked up at the stars, but how far have we progressed? Should we trust in spirituality, astrology, formal religion or science? Michael, who holds a PhD in quantum physics, has spent the last few years trying to answer this question by looking through the eyes of a man who tried all of the above. Jerome Cardano is a long-forgotten Milanese astrologer, mathematician and scientist who spent his life searching for a way to make sense of human existence. His astonishing journey led him to audiences with dignitaries such as the Pope and the King of England, to a humiliating arrest and imprisonment by the Inquisition, and to the creation of the mathematical ideas that underpin our best modern attempt at an answer: quantum physics. In this talk, Michael will take us on Jerome's extraordinary journey and beyond, examining the strange answers, ancient and modern, that have resulted from humanity's search for ultimate truth.

Books will be available to purchase at the event, or beforehand from Burway Books when buying a ticket, at £15.00 (RRP £16.99)
