SUE PRIDEAUX

I Am Dynamite: A Life of Friedrich Nietzsche'
Thursday November 22nd , 7.30 –9.00pm
Venue: URC Church Hall , Church Stretton
Tickets £8 to include light refreshments *

Prize-winning author Sue Prideaux will give an illustrated talk about her new book on the philosopher Friedrich Nietzsche, one of the most enigmatic figures in philosophy, and his concepts—the Übermensch, the will to power, slave morality— which have fundamentally reshaped our understanding of the human condition. But what do most people really know of Nietzsche beyond the moustache, the scowl, and the lingering association with nihilism and fascism? Where do we place a thinker who was equally beloved by Albert Camus, Ayn Rand, Martin Buber, and Adolf Hitler?

“A wonderfully readable book .. its real strengths lie in the quality of its writing and the way it deals with Nietzsche’s relations with the remarkably few people with whom he was close. Other writers have tried to get inside Nietzsche’s mind, but in using her empathic imagination to understand Nietzsche’s relations with his mother, his sister, his friends, his publisher, and even his landlords, Prideaux is able to offer us a valuable new perspective, one in which he emerges as a unique and endlessly fascinating person, but nevertheless a person to whom we can relate.”

Ray Monk reviewing 'I Am Dynamite' in The New Statesman.

“There are no facts, only interpretations”
